

ATTENTION!

Can you create a poster to persuade someone to join the Roman Army.

Read through the Army Recruit Poster information and think of all the positives to joining up:

- Working together as a group
- Lots of people to make friends with
- No need to get married!
- Getting citizenship if they weren't already
- Learning useful skills
- Free time for games
- Great terms and conditions; bonuses and rewards

Look at the poster on the next page and then try to create your own recruitment poster. Don't forget to use all of your Literacy skills: can you include fronted adverbials, different sentence openers, interesting vocabulary, a relative clause, technical vocabulary, different conjunctions, the same tense throughout, brackets, commas, full stops and capital letters – or all of them!

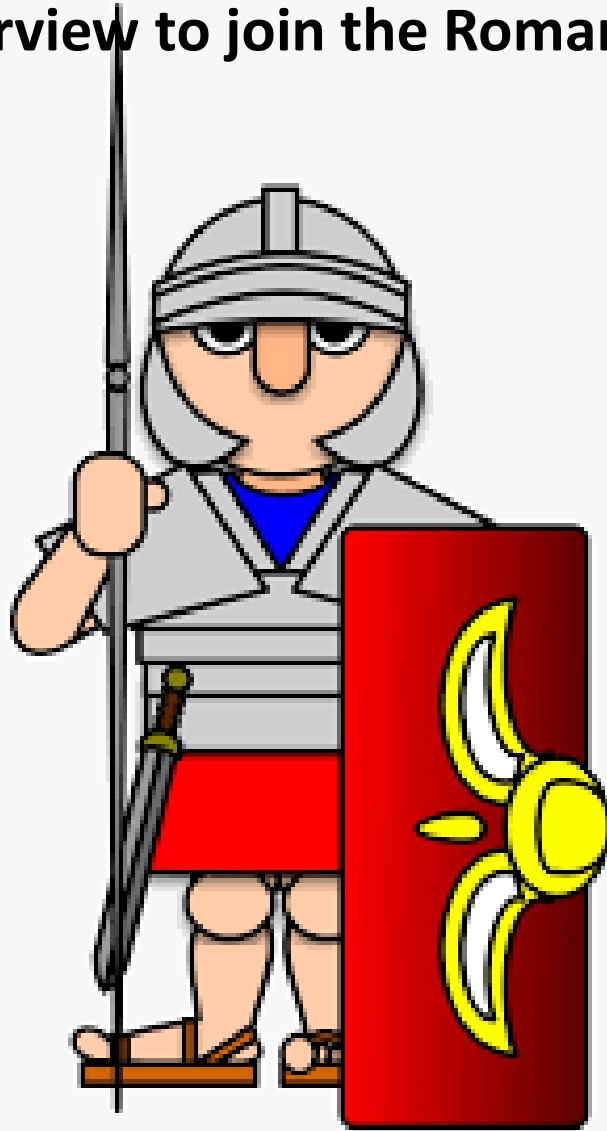

Join the Roman Army today

We invite you along for an interview to join the Roman Army.

As a Roman soldier, we will equip you with the fighting skills you will require. However, we will also give you the opportunity to learn many other skills including road and bridge building.

Being a Roman soldier is not all work though. With time on their hands, our recruits enjoy relaxing at the baths and playing board and dice games.

Are you being nagged to marry? A perfect response to those who are harassing you is that you are a Roman legionary – we only accept fun-loving single guys.

Another advantage to joining the Roman Army is the immediate source of friendship and comradery that living and working together in a large group provides. You won't feel lonely in the Roman Army.

If you choose to join the Roman Army, you will be well rewarded. On top of great pay, which is considered to be more than generous, our bonuses include glimmering medals, gold crowns and, the ultimate in weaponry, a silver spear. At the end of your service we don't forget you either – land (at least 2 acres) and a pension will be coming your way.