

Starting Point

When I've gone on holiday, I've been to: Orlando, where I visited Disney World; Spain, where I lay on the beach; Wales, where I climbed Mount Snowdon; and Cornwall where I learned to surf.

My favourite authors include: David Walliams, because his books make me laugh; R J Palacio, as her book Wonder really made me think; Louis Sacher, because I felt sorry for his character Bradley; and Ross Welford, as hamsters are cool.

In our local café, you can order: a breakfast sub with bacon, egg, and cheese ; a roll containing ham, lettuce and tomato; a Vegan sandwich containing tomato, lettuce, and avocado; and a coronation chicken baguette.

Later today, I need to do the following to help my family: take out the bins; tidy up my home learning area; water the plants; and unload the dishes from the dishwasher.

Feeling Happy

When I've gone on holiday, I've been to: Orlando, where I visited Disney World; Spain, where I lay on the beach; Wales, where I climbed Mount Snowdon; and Cornwall where I learned to surf.

My favourite authors include: David Walliams, because his books make me laugh; R J Palacio, as her book Wonder really made me think; Louis Sacher, because I felt sorry for his character Bradley; and Ross Welford, as hamsters are cool.

In our local café, you can order: a breakfast sub with bacon, egg, and cheese ; a roll containing ham, lettuce and tomato; a Vegan sandwich containing tomato, lettuce, and avocado; and a coronation chicken baguette.

Later today, I need to do the following to help my family: take out the bins; tidy up my home learning area; water the plants; and unload the dishes from the dishwasher.

When I go camping, I take foldable chairs to sit on and admire the countryside; a torch for late night walks in the dark; a gas burner to cook dinner on; and a warm, cosy sleeping bag.

My favourite snacks are grape popsicles straight out of the freezer; warm chocolate brownies with vanilla ice cream; crunchy cheese and onion crisps; and sweet, juicy honey tangerines.

Hot Stuff

When I've gone on holiday, I've been to: Orlando, where I visited Disney World; Spain, where I lay on the beach; Wales, where I climbed Mount Snowdon; and Cornwall where I learned to surf.

My favourite authors include: David Walliams, because his books make me laugh; R J Palacio, as her book Wonder really made me think; Louis Sacher, because I felt sorry for his character Bradley; and Ross Welford, as hamsters are cool.

In our local café, you can order: a breakfast sub with bacon, egg, and cheese ; a roll containing ham, lettuce and tomato; a Vegan sandwich containing tomato, lettuce, and avocado; and a coronation chicken baguette.

Later today, I need to do the following to help my family: take out the bins; tidy up my home learning area; water the plants; and unload the dishes from the dishwasher.

When I go camping, I take foldable chairs to sit on and admire the countryside; a torch for late night walks in the dark; a gas burner to cook dinner on; and a warm, cosy sleeping bag.

My favourite snacks are grape popsicles straight out of the freezer; warm chocolate brownies with vanilla ice cream; crunchy cheese and onion crisps; and sweet, juicy honey tangerines.

